Overview

The Philippine Islands are one of the largest archipelagos around the world. It comprises 7, 107 islands which during high tide, only 7,100 are visible. Since the only way to get to many of its stunning islands is by the sea, the country has become a good cruising and island hopping spot in South East Asia. Some of the amazing places to visit are Baler, Batanes, Bohol, Busuanga, Cebu, Davao, Hundred Islands, Malapascua, Pagudpod, Palawan, Panglao Island, Puerto Galera, Subic Bay, Tagaytay, and Zamboanga.

Generally, the Philippines is a safe cruising area and despite the impressions on rebels attack, the insurgence in Mindanao is located farther south. In 2013, Davao City in southern Mindanao was even ranked as 4th among the safest and 7th on the best cities in the world.

Courtesy Flag

The National Flag of the Philippines is a horizontal bicolor flag with equal bands of royal blue and scarlet red, and with a white equilateral triangle at the hoist. It is commonly known as the Three Stars and a Sun. At the center of the triangle is a golden yellow sun with eight primary rays. These rays represent the country's first group of provinces that started the 1896 Philippine Revolution against Spain. The five-point star at each vertex of the triangle represents one of the country's three main island groups - Luzon, Visayas, and Mindanao. If the red side of this flag is on top, it indicates a state of war.

Arrival and Departure

Yachts arriving/departing in the Philippines usually report to the yacht club initially and is best advised to give advance information on arrival and/or departure. Asia Pacific Marine (APM) can process custom and immigration clearances for visiting yachts. Yachts must try to give 24 hours advance notice of arrival at the Port of Entry especially those with animals aboard which are subject for quarantine. APM can also clear documents and permit for animals. APM has associates in Cebu and Puerto Princesa, Palawan that can also clear yachts and offer seamless services throughout the Philippines.

International Airport

There are 11 international airports and over 50 domestic and community airports throughout the Philippines. Ninoy Aquino International Airport or NAIA in Manila is 3-4 hours away from Subic and offers flights to as many destinations worldwide. Another one-hour drive airport is in Clark, Pampanga though flights offered are less than of NAIA.

Climate

Philippines is a tropical country. Thus, there are only two seasons: sunny and rainy. Southwest and Northeast monsoons dictate the weather though recently, Philippines have an unpredictable weather changes. March to May is the hottest months and rain starts from June and extends to October with strong typhoons possible. January to February are the coolest and less humid months in the country. Locations exposed directly to the Pacific Ocean have frequent rainfall all year. For more info, you can visit <http://www.worldtravelguide.net/philippines/weather-climate-geography> and <http://www.typhoon2000.ph/>. You can also check out <http://www.cwb.gov.tw/eng/> should you wish for weather updates in northern part of the Philippines.

For more information on the map above, please visit <http://www.silent-gardens.com/climate.php#.VLxtUsZcdI>

Charts/Tides/Cruising Guides

Admiralty charts can be ordered through Navicharts (<http://www.navicharts.org/>) in Cebu. You can find a list of local charts, tide information and cruising guides from Namria located in Manila or, visit their website at <http://www.namria.gov.ph/products.aspx>. If you wish, we can arrange the order ahead of time to have the charts ready before your arrival.

SAT TV Systems

Dream Satellite TV is the local satellite TV system in the Philippines which was first commercially launched in 2001. G Sat and Cignal Digital TV are similar satellite TV systems available locally. A set box is usually purchased and comes in prepaid plans with separate installation fees. A boat visit may be required for compatibility inspection.

Cash Withdrawals

There are thousands of banks and ATMs in the Philippines wherein visitors can use their card but don't expect these to rural areas. Always secure cash before leaving a city. There are three major local ATM consortia in the country: BancNet, MegaLink, and Expressnet. Normal bank charges will be applied. It is best to always secure identification cards which may be required for changing travelers' cheques (USD travelers cheques are the most secure). You can contact us for money transfers and encashment assistance.

Money Changers

Visitors can easily find money changers in commercial centers in cities which you can also find in department stores and shopping mall premises. Local moneychangers are also available but though they offer higher exchange rates, it is safer to go to the banks, or hotels and resorts.

In Manila, there should be no trouble changing US dollars, British pounds or euros. Japanese yen, Canadian and Australian dollars, ASEAN currencies, and some currencies from the Middle East are also accepted. In smaller cities, US dollar is most commonly accepted.

Emergency Telephone Numbers

The official emergency hotline in the Philippines is 117 (pronounced as one-one-seven) and is the only emergency number in the world that can be accessed via voice call and text messaging managed by the Department of Interior and Local Government.

Subic Bay Freeport Zone

Location

Subic Bay Freeport Zone (SBFZ) or simply Subic Bay was a military base that was successfully converted into a tax and duty free zone managed by Subic Bay Metropolitan Authority or SBMA. The place is 110km north of Manila and can be reached via expressways with approximate travel time of 3 hours depending on traffic.

"The mountain ranges around the Subic Bay area and the deep natural harbor provide excellent and protected anchorage. In addition, these features make SBFZ naturally sheltered from typhoons. Subic Bay Freeport Zone is in Region III (or Central Luzon Region) of the Philippines. It is one of the points in the growth triangle (and an engine for economic development) in the region. SBFZ is a supplier of services and products for the Central Luzon Development Program, a regional growth area composed of the provinces of Bulacan, Nueva Ecija, Tarlac, Pampanga, Bataan, and Zambales." (Reference: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Subic_Bay_Freeport_Zone)

Weather

It is generally warm in Subic throughout the year. Months from October to June are the sunniest while July to September has the greatest rainfall. Tropical storms and typhoon can be experienced usually from May to October.

Security

Subic Bay has safe and secure surroundings. The environment is clean and the residential areas are peaceful. Peace and order, and traffic rules are strictly observed while easy access to amenities and facilities to modern living is enjoyed at the same time.

As a former US military base, Subic is used to welcoming foreign visitors. Though the place is peaceful enough to roam at night and enjoy all that it offers it is still best to be careful when venturing around and is advised for ladies to go in groups.

Accommodation

There is a wide range of accommodation available in and out of Subic Bay. May it be villas, hotels or suites, visitors can choose what suits best their needs and preferences. For list and rates, please visit <http://www.subic.com/hotels.php> or call us for further assistance.

Tourism

There's a good deal of activities visitors can do in Subic. Nature-based theme parks, bird sites, mountain trails, mangroves, rainforests, and many other sports and adventure sites encourage visitors to come and enjoy the place. There are plenty of restaurants that offer varieties of the world cuisine.

a. Cuisine

Some of our favorites are Japanese Yuan, Indian (former Rama Mahal), Lagoon, Rallies, Magellan's Landing, Aresi Jerry's Grill and Chinese, Korean, Italian restaurants.

Other places you might consider going are Light House, Segara Villas, The Castle, Pier One, Wild Orchid and Paddys. The Mall has lots of choices, too. Outside Olongapo, a walk on Magsaysay road is an option. It's full of local bars – some with bands playing like Brews and Willies.

Baretto is a few KM away but like Magsaysay St., it is full of different bars, hotels and restaurants. There is a good Mexican called Playa Papagayo owned by Frank Lacson. Blue Rock offers food expats are used to. Wild Orchid has the reputation of the best steak in town. Bob Gillies, the manager is a friend and a former yacht crew.

b. More Activities!

- Wreck diving WW2 Mitsu Zero plane, and US war ships; Try Magellan's for dive master. Brian Holman and his son Greg are the owners.
- Ocean Adventure or Camayan Cove for beach and whale park
- Trekking thru El Kabayo Falls
- War games with paint ball guns
- Parasailing
- If you have a boat right outside Grande Island, the first cove to the right is a white sand beach and a few km long that has no access from land which means you have two (2) or three (3) fishermen in huts that don't even have electricity to bother you.
- Jungle survival training
- In Clark, there is a race track where you can rent race cars or go karting
- Networks you can rent off road bombardiers (you can go trailing for water sports, hobbie cats and lazars).

Beach Clubs

Marked on the map at the right are the main beach resorts that many locals and tourists visit. They offer a lot of activities visitors will surely enjoy whether they are on the beach or in the water. Outside SBFZ are a numerous other beach clubs.

Cinemas

Harbor Point Cinema is the main movie theatre in Subic Bay Freeport Zone. It's a well-equipped movie hall that provides viewers an excellent experience watching the latest local and international movies.

Hospitals

Subic Bay features many medical facilities that provide efficient, high quality and reliable health care services to locals and tourists at reasonable costs.

Duty Free Shopping

SBFZ has many duty free stores and outlets which offer a vast range of commodities. Clark, another Freeport zone and an hour-drive from Subic also offers many products where previous visiting yachts were able to get preferred delis, meats, vegetables, and more which may have not been available in Subic.

Garbage Disposal

The Maintenance and Transportation Department is responsible for solid waste collections and janitorial services to Subic Bay. Garbage disposal is properly observed in both residential and commercial areas. Yachts staying in Subic Bay can call us to properly arrange collection and disposal of garbage especially if it is a large load.

SBMA Hotlines

In case of emergency, you can directly call us at +63 (0) 47 252 9069 or +63 (0) 47 252 9070 or contact below hotline numbers.

Marina

Subic Bay Yacht Club

Subic Bay Yacht Club (SBYC) is at 14°49'23N and 120°17'14E. It is located along Rizal highway, Subic Bay Freeport Zone, Philippines. SBYC is a recreational facility located near the business district of Subic Bay Freeport Zone that provides convenient and affordable weekend getaway. The main clubhouse is a blue-chip facility that offers high-end entertainment and living. For more info, please go to <http://www.subicbayyachtclub.ph/>.

Docking Options

Aside from the Subic Bay Yacht Club, there are other docking options available.

e. Bravo Pier

APM usually do refit and repairs at Bravo Pier. This is in the middle of town and the crew will need passes to get in and out of the compound. There is ample power. However, the yard is used by a lot of small boats doing annual maintenance. It is also right beside Subic dock which creates a lot of dust as well. We will need to clear in the yacht club or anchor out and wait until you are cleared in before heading into the dock. We may have to get a tender to come and collect the CIQ to board. The dock is very cheap at PhP25, 000.00 a month.

f. Nabasan Pier

This dock is clean but has no power and it is quite a drive for the crew to get into town, say about 15 minute drive. You will need to secure a hire car. We will need to clear in the yacht club or anchor out and wait until you are cleared in before heading into the dock. We may have to get a tender to come and collect the CIQ to board. 35,000 per month (cost will depend on the specs of your yacht)

g. Camayan

This dock is also very clean privately owned by the whale park. There are hotels and 2 restaurants nearby open 24 hours. They will provide hire cars and vans for you they can provide you with fresh water. Power might be an issue for your size yacht, if you could give me your daily consumption KVA I will be able to let you know if they can provide power. The area has the cleanest water in the bay and is tightly controlled by Ocean Adventure. On this dock you will be able to clear in on the dock since it is a privately owned dock.

This berth is even further than Nabasan and it will take about a 20 minute drive into town. Another concern is that the area is right by the whale park and spillage of contaminants like oil and detergents during wash down will have to be scrutinized very well.

Dry-Docking Options

a. Herma Shipyard: Floating Dock

This is APM's all-around best bet and we have the best relationship with them. For more info please visit <http://www.hermashipyard.com>.

(Photo Source:

b. Nautilus 2 Shipyard and Repair Facility: Travel Lift

This yard has a 600 ton travel lift. It is in Manila and the area will not be clean and security may be a problem. However, they are very cheap as the last quote we got for a 40meter simple dry docking was roughly $20,000 for a 7 day haul out.

(Photo Source: <http://news.nauticexpo.com/press/marine-travelift-inc/marine-travelift-inc-expands-presence-southeast-asia-25733-210923.html>)

c. Subic Dock

Although Subic Dock does not usually take yachts, clients may be entertained if lucky enough that the dock has no vessel. It is right beside the Subic Bay Yacht club and will be very convenient if available.

Fuel Docks

APM can arrange fuel at the POL coastal dock jetty or the jetty beside the yacht club owned by CS&T Subic, Inc.
